U.S. ARMY SUSTAINMENT COMMAND

COMMAND SERGEANT MAJOR NORBERTO D. OSBOURNE COMMAND SERGEANT MAJOR

CSM Norberto D. Osbourne serves as Command Sergeant Major of the U.S. Army Sustainment Command (ASC), a position he held when ASC was established in September 2006. As Command Sergeant Major, CSM Osbourne serves as the primary advisor to the ASC Commanding General on all matters pertaining to enlisted personnel assigned to the Command, particularly in areas related to their training and development and to the quality of life and well-being of Soldiers and their families. CSM Osbourne also responds to the concerns of civilian and contractor employees of the Command, and performs community outreach activities.

During his career, CSM Osbourne has served in every enlisted leadership position from squad leader to battalion Command Sergeant Major. He has completed overseas tours in Germany, Panama and Korea, as well as a combat tour in Southwest Asia. His assignments in the United States include Fort Jackson, South Carolina; Fort Sill, Oklahoma; Fort Dix, New Jersey; Fort Bliss, Texas; Fort Riley, Kansas, where he served as battalion Command Sergeant Major; and Yuma Proving Ground, Arizona, where he served as installation Command Sergeant Major. Prior to his assignment as ASC Command Sergeant Major, CSM Osbourne served as Command Sergeant Major of the U.S. Army Joint Munitions Command (JMC), which is also headquartered at Rock Island, Illinois.

CSM Osbourne's military education includes the Basic Leadership Course; the Primary Leadership Development Course; the Nuclear Biological Chemical Course; the Instructor Training Course; the Drill Sergeant School; the Basic Noncommissioned Officers Course; the Motor Sergeant Course; the Pre-Commissioned Officer Course; the Advanced Noncommissioned Officers Course; the Battle Staff Course; and the First Sergeant Course. He is a graduate of the U.S. Army Sergeants Major Academy (Class 50 – "The Millennium Class") and the Command Sergeant Major Course at Fort Bliss, Texas, as well as the Garrison Sergeant Major Course at Fort Belvoir, Virginia. CSM Osbourne is also a graduate of Regents College in New York.

CSM Osbourne's awards and decorations include the Bronze Star; the Legion of Merit; the Meritorious Service Medal with three oak leaf clusters; the Army Commendation Medal with three oak leaf clusters; the Army Achievement Medal with two oak leaf clusters; the Good Conduct Medal (eight awards); the National Defense Service Medal with Bronze Star; the Southwest Asia Service Medal with three Bronze Stars; the NCO Professional Development Ribbon with Numeral Four; the Humanitarian Service Ribbon (two awards); the Global War on Terrorism Service Medal; the Korean Defense Service Medal; the Air Assault Badge; the Driver's Badge; and the Drill Instructor Badge. He is also a recipient of the Ancient Order of Saint Barbara for Field Artillerymen.
